Selection Committee
2013 Women of Influence Award

Dear Selection Committee:

Please accept this letter of recommendation for Jeri Le Henry in her nomination for the 2013 Women of Influence Award.

I have known Jeri Le for over fifteen years, and have worked directly for her for the past ten years. Jeri Le has been a role model, mentor and friend – encouraging me to develop myself both professionally and personally to give back to our community. As a Director at Bankers Trust, Jeri Le shows her strength in her actions – she truly leads by example. Not afraid to walk the walk, Jeri Le has always proven to those above and below her that no job is too big or small for her efforts. This model is a constant for Jeri Le, and one that has helped make her successful and earned high respect from her colleagues and other leaders in the community.

There are a number of local and national groups that have benefited over the years from Jeri Le's participation and influence. She gets involved and provides direct change to groups and individuals by her ability to make connections and bring ideas to fruition. Jeri Le is a do-er and jumps at the chance to bring positive change to any challenge. I am often inspired by the causes she connects with and her every-ready hand to lend. In the midst of any hectic day, you will hear her say any number of times – what can I do to help? In these small and large ways, Jeri Le has made a lasting impact on people and organizations.

Jeri Le has been a woman of influence at Bankers Trust for the past 29 years. Rising through the ranks, her reputation precedes her for her knowledge and high ethical standards. You know when Jeri Le is involved, there will be a solution! Never looking for recognition or reciprocation, she influences change with her quiet dedication and service to others.

Jeri Le Henry is a most deserving recipient of this award. Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Melissa A. Stover, Esq.
