Dear Friends,

It is with great pleasure that I write this letter of recommendation for Julie Stewart and her nomination for the Business Record Women of Influence award.

I have known Julie for many years as a friend, business colleague and volunteer on several projects. In my professional efforts to raise money to save and restore the USS IOWA battleship; raise money for the restoration of Terrace Hill; corporate sales for the Iowa Barnstormers and establishing the Puppy Jake Foundation to raise and professionally train service dogs for wounded military veterans, Julie Stewart has always been there to offer advice, assistance and financial support.

Julie's passion, knowledge and commitment to any endeavor she undertakes is second to none. She works tirelessly in her career to make Prairie Meadows the best it can be. Her innovation and vision in marketing and advertising has led Prairie Meadows to the forefront in a very competitive field. Julie's compassion and dedication to philanthropic causes is unparalleled and the number of community projects and organizations that she has helped is endless.

While working tirelessly in her job and all her community activities, Julie always makes time to spend with her family. She and her husband have three terrific kids and following in Julie's footsteps, they are involved in their schools and community as well.

I can't think of a more deserving, unassuming and humble nominee than Julie Stewart. Julie will be a wonderful testament and embody the high honor that the Business Record Women of Influence award would bestow.

Most sincerely,
