Marta A. Codina Region Bank President

Marta Codina is a 39-year veteran of the financial services industry who started her career as a teller during high school in Houston, Texas. Marta moved to Iowa in 1992 to join US Bank and worked there for 10 years as a regional manager leading the Retail Banking Division. She joined Wells Fargo in 2001. During her tenure with the company she has served as a regional development manager, overseeing leadership strategies and learning and development for Iowa, and as an area manager for Wells Fargo Home Mortgage, overseeing the mortgage production sales force for Iowa, prior to working in Community Banking.

Marta currently serves as region bank president for Wells Fargo Bank. In her role she oversees western Iowa retail banking in a territory that includes Des Moines, Ames, Atlantic, Waterloo/Cedar Falls, Clarion, Denison, Eagle Grove, Emmetsburg, Fort Dodge, Jefferson, Mason City, Perry and Sioux City.

A graduate of the University of Houston, she was a founding member of the Wells Fargo Central Iowa Diversity and Inclusion Council and is an executive sponsor of that group, which coordinates Wells Fargo's local efforts around diversity and inclusion. She is an active volunteer in the central Iowa community and serves on many nonprofit councils and committees, including as vice chair on the executive committee of the United Way of Central Iowa, the Greater Des Moines Partnership board, the Special Olympics Iowa board and on the National Advisory Council of The Robert D. and Billie Ray Center (formerly known as Character Counts in Iowa).

Marta and her husband, Jim Bruno, are residents of Waukee, Iowa, and have a son, Nicholas, and daughter, Maddie. Marta is a native of Cuba and came to the United States as a refugee in the early 1960s with her parents. Her passion is around "making a difference" primarily in the areas of early childhood development and diversity and inclusion.
